NWOJ0062 A NEW WAVE OF JAZZ  AXIS

Tryptophan Suite represents the very first notes this new trio played together. Stars were aligned and the music flowed effortlessly in a profound conversation where each personality and instrument matters. Fresh music rooted in ancient principles that is uplifting and deep and also nostalgic and beautiful as only life can be.

Portuguese saxophonist José Lencastre first encounter with Belgian guitarist Dirk Serries and pianist Martina Verhoeven resulted in exquisite musical story telling. Unique in its line-up each instrument, with each musician behind it, has room to excel and brings a beautiful melange of (free) jazz, improvisation and avant-garde to life that is clearly their own. José Lencastre, Dirk Serries and Martina Verhoeven formed Lemadi Trio and this is their debut album with a promotional tour to follow in 2024.

A NEW WAVE OF JAZZ, curated by Dirk Serries, is not about jazz music, persé, but more about a philosophy. A style, an approach, a modus operandi in communicating between artists, label and audience. A platform for all experiments and sound exchanges between the affiliated musicians on the label, from full-on free improvisation to minimalism. As much as possible, geographically this is sometimes a challenge.
